DONS LEAVE FOR PHOENIX FRIDAY EVE

Game To Be On Air

KOY Will Broadcast Grid Battle From Arizona Stadium Saturday

BULLETIN

A hurried telegraph message to Phoenix early this morning revealed that the Santa Ana junior college-Phoenix junior college football game is to be broadcast over radio station KOY of Phoenix. The game goes on the air at 3 o'clock, mountain time, or 2 o'clock Pacific time. The station broadcasts at 1390 kilocycles, and 215.7 meters. (very near KGER). It was also revealed that the game is to be the Phoenix home-coming game.

Andrew Jackson Cook and his band of Santa Ana junior college gridmen shove off Friday evening for Phoenix, Arizona, where they will participate in their second inter-sectional game of the 1930 conference season.

MANY PUBLICATIONS ENTER PAPER OFFICE

Many newspapers enter the Don office daily, it was revealed by "The Don" management recently. Besides the five daily city papers that come into the office, there are fifty or sixty other college exchanges.

From Alaska comes the "Farthest North Collegian", publication of the Alaskan Agricultural College. From Hawaii comes the "Ke Kumuhulu", student paper of the Territorial Normal School, and from the Johnson C. Smith University, of Charlotte comes "The University Student". Practically all the publications of all the colleges in the state exchange with "The Don".

Hunt And Dance Is Held By Press Club

Foggy though it was last Thursday night the press club treasure hunters succeeded in finding the treasure at the top of the flagpole in front of the school after a search throughout the country. The hunters started at 7:30 from in front of the building and went first to Garden Grove then Anaheim, Olive, Irvine Park, Tustin, Eddie Martin's Air Port, College Greens Golf course, and ended at the school. The course covered approximately 50 miles.

Audrey Teel and Harold Harvey were the winning pair. After the treasure hunt the contestants went to the home of Audrey Teel where dancing and a step up and grab it lunch was enjoyed.

Five Weeks of Pledges Left For 16 Brotherhood of Bachelors "Scums"

With only five weeks of pledgeship remaining, 16 "scums" of the Brotherhood of Bachelors consoled one another and looked with satisfaction upon the first project of pledgeship, the football caravan to Pasadena Saturday.

The Bachelors sponsored the caravan, declared to be the largest in college history ever to attend a football game. Between 40 and 50 cars joined the procession and two motor officers escorted the decorated parade to the Bulldog school. Over 200 students cheered the Dons to a 7 to 0 victory over Pasadena. The Bachelor pledges were in charge of publicity, each being responsible for a large sign for the hall.

As a further test of their pledgeship, the new pledges entertained the audience in assembly yesterday by standing in a body and singing the Alma Mater. Further entertainments have been planned for the ensuing

Press Club Directory Waiting For Student Ticket Sale

Because of the extended student ticket sale the Press club directory is having to be held up from the press a week, it was announced by "Sky" Dunlap, editor.

Each of the student ticket holders is going to have a star placed before his name, it was also announced. The copy is almost all in, and all that holds it from the press is the sale.

"Y. W." Holds Meet At "Y" Hut Monday

An impressive candlelight recognition service featured the regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. which occurred last Monday evening, October 27. Preceding the ceremony was a pot-luck supper.

Numbers on the program included a reading by Evelyn Green and a flute solo by Joanna Day. Advisers of the organization are Mrs. Jennie L. Tessmann, astronomy instructor, Miss Mabel Whiting, mathematics, and Zena Leck, women's coach. The cabinet members were attired in white dresses.

On Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, October 31 to November 2, 25 girls of the Y. W. C. A. will take part in a retreat to Camp Emma Otis, one mile from Modjeska's home, in the Silverado canyon. Lectures, discussions, and hikes will be on the program.

At the meeting Monday night, the organization was addressed by Mrs. Moffet Rhodes.

Beta Gamma Elects Eight New Members

Eight new members were elected to Beta Gamma, Santa Ana junior college honorary organization, at its last meeting at the home of Maybelle Ball, president, 111 West Seventeenth street, following an informal dinner at Ketner's. Those elected were Marion Parsons, A. W. S. president and commissioner of women's athletics; Wayne Flinn, commissioner of forensics; Goldie Peale, Algol art editor; Tom Clark, Associated Student treasurer; Ed Kilbourne, Algol business manager; Cardwell Oglesby, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and vice-president of the Gauchos; Bob Williams, Y. M. C. A. president and vice-president of Hermanos Siempre; and Frank Miles, former commissioner of forensics and football star.

Final plans for an assembly to be held Tuesday were made, among the numbers of which were an address by Professor Cook of U. S. C., musical numbers by Don Abbott and Everett Idler, and a brief resume of Beta Gamma by John Dunlap.

Bill Reinhardt and Abbott Mason were appointed by Miss Ball to present sketches for keys to take the place of the pins which are now used by the organization.

Those present at the meeting were Mrs. John Tessmann, adviser; Maybelle Ball, Vernell Butler, Sky Dunlap, Warren Schutz, Bill Reinhardt, Lawson Watkins, and Abbott Mason.

Each of the pledges, who wears the club emblem of a rolling pin tied with red ribbon and a safety pin, is having a busy time carrying out the wishes of the members. On next Tuesday, Bachelor Sabbath, they will again wear the green Windsor ties that created such a sensation last Tuesday. The members will wear the customary red ties and glasses. On this day, no member or pledge may speak to a woman.

College Year-Book Name to be Chosen By Vote Tuesday; Polls In Student Office Open All Day; Sixteen Names Suggested

Next Tuesday afternoon the students of Santa Ana junior college will vote on a new name for their college year-book. The voting will be an all-day affair, with the polls open all day in the Associated Student office. It was voted by a standing vote not long ago in assembly to change the name from "Algol" to something more fitting to the traditions of the college.

Some sixteen names have been suggested as successor to "Algol". Those suggested are: "The Don Book", "El Sabio", "El Don", "El Libro", "La Fiesta", "La Carmencita", "El Dorado", "El Fin", "El Terminacio", "El Cuento", "La Historia", "El Toro", "El Gaucho", and "El Toreador".

The name "Algol" has existed for ten years. It was given to the book upon its first appearance in 1920, by Jennie Lasby Tessmann, present Astronomy instructor. At that time the enrollment of the college was between 125 and 150 students.

The year-book staff is now completed, with the exception of Sophomore editor, Bill Reinhardt, who was appointed a few weeks ago has had to resign.

U. S. C. Professor Talks To Students

"In the making of the international mind there is to develop that non-conflict element, out of which there will come a new internationalism", stated professor Orwyn W. E. Cook, in the junior college assembly yesterday. Professor Cook is connected with the department of political science and foreign relations at the University of Southern California. He was secured through the efforts of Beta Gamma, college honorary society.

Preceding the speech, several cornet numbers were given, Everett Idler at the piano, and Don Abbott, Warren Schutz, and Carlton Smith on cornets, made up the quartet. John Dunlap, member of the Beta Gamma, gave a brief resume of the society, and then announced the eight new members, being elected into the society last Monday.

Professor Cook stated that the anti-Japanese element was dying out fast in the United States, and that at the last meeting of Congress a bill to do away with the restricted Japanese immigration law will be introduced.

New Appointments Made By Ex Board

One new paper appointment, and four new year-book appointments were made by the Executive Board at their regular weekly meeting in the Associated Student office.

Marjorie Adams was named feature editor to succeed Virginia Bishop, who has left school. Bill Warren was named sport editor of the year-book; James Lukens, music editor; Eugenia Richards, women's sport editor, and Betty James, society editor of the annual. Jerry Tannenbaum was originally named sport editor but as he is going to leave Santa Ana in February, he was forced to resign. Bill Reinhardt has also resigned his position as Sophomore editor.

The football trip to Phoenix, Arizona, Friday is estimated to cost close to $700; thirty men will make the trip, leaving Santa Ana Friday afternoon on a specially chartered pullman, and arriving in Arizona Saturday morning about eight o'clock. The team will arrive in Santa Ana Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

Restrictive Club Members Are Associated Ticket Holders

A survey is being made among the six restrictive clubs of the campus as to Associated Student ticket holders. At press time, four of the six restrictive clubs on the Santa Ana, five clubs on the Santa Ana junior college campus had been checked up on, and out of 67 members, 63 are student ticket holders.

That includes all the members and their pledges. The Moav club with six members, has six student ticket holders, and their nine pledges all have tickets. The Gauchos, with a membership of nine, and a pledgeship of 12 also have a perfect score. The Junior Lions, with their 10 members, all have student tickets, but their five pledges, only one is a non-ticket holder. The Las Meninas, with seven members and nine pledges lack two of a perfect score.

Associated Student Ticket Sale Will Close Friday Afternoon

Santa Ana junior college Associated Student tickets cannot be purchased after Friday, was the ruling of the Executive Board. All students not holding tickets, will have to be deprived of the privileges that go with the ticket, or pay the regular price, which comes at half price, with the ticket purchase.

All those participating in extra-curricular activities, which includes sports of all kinds, publications, clubs, debates, and so on, must be holders.

Gauchos To Pledge Four More Members

Four more pledges will be taken in at the Gauchos meeting Monday night, it was revealed today by Lawson Watkins, president. Also, the first five pledges will receive their second degree initiation, and eight more prospective pledges will be entertained. The meeting is to be held at the home of Ed Kilbourne.

Those pledged into the club October 20 are Howard Barnes, Joe McChesney, Cecil Slaback, Fred Davis, and Henry Lang. Those to receive their first rites Monday are Charley Greenleaf, Harley Vahl, Donald Dickson and James Newman. It is intended to complete the membership to 23 or 24; 25 is the quota. That will leave a few places to be filled the second semester.

The club was organized a few weeks ago, to take its place along side of the two other restrictive clubs, the Junior Lions, and Brotherhood of Bachelors. The charter members are Lawson Watkins, president, Roy Arms, Ed Kilbourne, Calvin Stilwell, Tom Donahue, Cardwell Oglesby, Eldon Bragg, Manfred Mueller, and Frank Mansur.

Jaysee Scribes Attend Convention on Nov. 8

Five, and possibly six students will represent Santa Ana junior college at the semi-annual California Junior College Press Association convention, November 8, at Pasadena. "The Don" will enter in the contest for the prizes, and possibly last year's Algol, the yearbook, will be entered.

Convention headquarters are at Hotel Maryland located on Colorado Street and Los Robles Avenue in Pasadena. In the morning, after the reception, a business meeting will be held, and then round-table discussion will take place. There will be an editor's discussion group, year-book discussion group, sport editor's group, business manager's round-table group, general newspaper faculty adviser's group, problems group, and general make-up discussion round table.

Prizes offered are: best editorial, best news story, best sport story, best sport page make up, best front page make-up, and best all-around annual. Three places are given, but only awards are given to first place.

Those who will probably attend from Santa Ana are: Oran Asa, editor of "The Don"; Richard Robbins, managing editor; Paul Wright, sport editor; "Sky" Dunlap, former editor of "The Don"; Edger M. Flowers, advisor of "The Don"; and possibly one or two the year-book staff.

According to Ray Glesner, president of the Junior Lions, the club plans to entertain the Senior Lions at their regular weekly meeting at St Ann's Inn either this week or next. Last year the senior organization invited the Junior Lions to dinner at which time the college club furnished entertainment, and according to reports from the older men it was very successful. A program is being worked out and will be announced later, Glesner stated.

At a regular meeting at Ketner's recently plans were formulated for the rally which the club is in charge

MONEY DRIVE STARTED BY Y.M. MONDAY

5 Campaign Leaders

Goal Set at 325 Dollars, Winning Team Will Get Award

Marking the start of the big "Y" financial drive, a banquet was held last Monday evening at the city Y. M. C. A. building. Final plans for the drive were made.

Eldon Bragg, who is in charge of the drive has chosen five teams of five men each. Each team will be in charge of one man. The leaders appointed were Howard Barnes, Herman Goodwin, Max Appleby, Mitchell Hookins and Cecil Slaback. Each team will solicit a certain group of students. The winning team will be entertained with a show and dinner in Los Angeles by McKee Fisk, dean.

This is only 50 dollars more than was raised last year. Every student in the college will be asked to give or pledge a certain amount. If the student has not the money at the time he is solicited he may pledge a certain amount to be paid at a later date. It has been decided to ask only the men students of the college to contribute to the drive. Last year the $275 mark was made in easy fashion.

Cabinet members, of which Bob Williams is president were given their initiation. Lawson Watkins was in charge of the program with Bob Williams, master of ceremonies.

PUBLICITY COMMITTEE SENDS NEWS TO PAPERS

Santa Ana junior college's publicity committee, headed by Warren Schutz, and assisted by John Dunlap, and Oran Asa, has been busy the last few weeks. Stories have been sent out to each of the Orange county daily papers by Schutz.

"The Orange News", "Anaheim Bulletin", "Newport News", "Tustin News", "Garden Grove News", and "Costa Mesa Courier" are on the list. Stories are also sent out to the three high school papers of the largest contributors to Santa Ana junior college, namely, "The Reflector", of Orange high school, "The Anoranco" of Anaheim high school, and "The Broadcaster" of Tustin high school. News sent to these papers consists of mostly former graduates at Santa Ana.

Art Club Exhibits Paintings At Hut

The first annual exhibit sponsored by Alpha Rho Tau, college art club, has just come to a close. The exhibit of 25 etchings has been on display in the "Y" hut ever since the first week of school. It is the property of Torance C. Welch of Los Angeles, and was secured through D. K. Hammond, president of Santa Ana junior college, and a close friend of Mr. Welch.

"An unusual amount of interest and enthusiasm has been shown by the students over this exhibit, and plans are already being formulated whereby other exhibits belonging to (Continued on page 3)

Higher Wages Means Prosperity

"In 1950, according to Henry Ford, the average minimum wage will be $27 a day. Men will work only five days a week, 260 days of work a year, and have 105 days for rest and pleasure and to spend the average minimum wage of $7,020.

In the year 1800 only several men in the whole United States would earn $1 a day. At present there is no man not earning more than that, who has average intelligence. Since the beginning of the present century the average wage has increased four times. Why should they not be multiplied by four again, is the question. Higher wages means greater prosperity. Many things that any man can imagine is the way of comfort, prosperity, good pay and happiness could be made reality, with injury to none, and benefit to all."

Pledge To The "Y" Drive

The Y. M. C. A. drive is started. By all means, pledge to this worth while organization, and help continue the wonderful work that they are doing. Every man in the college should pledge not less than $1.00.

Many things of great merit are carried on by the organization. Their deputation team puts on programs at most of the large churches of the county on Sunday nights, which is also a wonderful training for the student. The Frosh Bible was edited by the Y. M. The club also maintains a study room at the south end of the college building.

Pledge to the Y. M., and help carry on this truly wonderful work.

Santa Ana And The 6-4-4 Plan

"Just as the junior colleges begin to really do something, and prosper, along comes this new idea, which wipes them out", was the recent statement of one who is closely connected with the junior college situation.

What will happen to Santa Ana junior college if the plan is put into effect here? Will her upper division increase in enrollment? Will the students be satisfied? Who is school for?

At present there are around 627 enrolled in Santa Ana junior college. Of that number only 217 are graduates of Santa Ana high school. Would that other 400 students have entered if the 6-4-4 plan had been in effect? What chance has a student entering in the middle of a 4-year school of entering and enjoying the extra-curricular activities?

Of the twenty-two clubs in S. A. J. C., twelve of the presidents are from schools other than Santa Ana high school. Of the thirty named on the honor society last semester, only thirteen were Santa Ana high school students. Of the 17 football players who seeing action in one of the football games recently, only five were Santa Ana graduates. Only 12 are in the regular starting line-up. Of the 61 members of the three men's service clubs, of which membership is elective, only 24 are Santa Ana high graduates, and all three of the presidents are "outside" students.

Would the students, which evidently run Santa Ana junior college, have entered school here if the 6-4-4 plan had been in effect? Would they want, after graduating from high school go back to "high school" again?

Assuming that at present the plan was in effect here, and that none of the outside students were enrolled there would be 217 in the upper division, and about 650 in the lower division. That would mean 867 students. Increase that number to almost 1000 for the few that would enter from the outside schools. That would mean that the plant now holding close to 1,700 students would drop off to 1,000 or under.

OVER THE EDITOR'S DESK

By Oran Asa

OUR EARTH IS FLAT? They are going to prove it too! One of the Zion City churchmen, W. G. Voliva, claims to have discovered new evidence that the earth is flat. He is now making a tour around the world and claims he can prove his point.

SOMETHING NEW IN THE way of lecture courses! A class of geology perched atop a volcano crater, 200 miles from the classroom, taking down notes on Mr. Scott's volcano lecture, and seeing for themselves.

At the bottom of the inside of the crater Amboy, located 80 miles this side of Needles, is a 15-foot high "S. A. J. C." built up with rocks.

IN THE GOOD OLE DAYS they usta use Hallowe'en nite to get revenge, and have a little fun with the enemy, like parkin' de ole buggy in a tree or on barns; turnin' outhouses upside down; and the like.

But now that we don't have outhouses, buggies, and so on, what are they going to do? If any of you own undersized automobiles, play safe, and take it into your bedroom with you.

WELL, OUR BOYS GO to Arizona Saturday to take on those strong Arizona jaysees. Mental attitude may whip the Dons. Last year the Arizonaans came to Santa Ana with a supposedly strong team, but the Dons made them look very bad, winning 56-0.

Santa Ana was somewhat lucky to defeat Pasadena last week. Those same bulldogs defeated Phoenix a few weeks ago by only a small margin.

Human nature, because of last year's game, will make the Dons consider Phoenix lightly. Overconfidence has wrecked more than one team for at least one game, anyway.

AGAIN WE MUST remind the student and the instructor that the student ticket sale is to close Friday, and that when the sale is over, it is OVER. And, the Executive Board is all set to enforce, to the last degree, the rules, and privileges set forth in the J.C. constitution.

ELECTION TO BETA GAMMA is a very high honor. Not only do you have to qualify scholastically, but also rank high in extra-curricular activities. Membership is limited to five percent of the Associated Students, with two-thirds of this number being sophomores. Freshmen are not considered until the fourth quarter.

THE VARSITY "S" CLUB does not seem to think very much of the idea of changing the junior college monogram. It was suggested a few weeks ago that the letters be revised so that an "A" could be included, as well as something to indicate that it was a junior college. No action has been taken on the question.

AND STILL THEY call us "SAINTS". News stories in our exchanges, as well as other city papers refer to Santa Ana junior college as "Saints". It, of course, is natural that they would call us "Saints", but Santa Ana jaysee AGAIN objects to that name.

Everything that goes with S. A. J. C., that is all her traditions, are Spanish. We are known as "DONS". The Santa Ana high school is called "Saints". Just as a matter of distinction.

AND, WHILE WE ARE on that subject, although it is too late this season, why not change that score board on Poly field in preparation for next year. The word "SAINTS" is painted in big letters. Now that the field is used by both the high school and junior college, why not change it to "Santa Ana". That would even it up.

IT WON'T BE LONG until the pencil companies will go out of business. Through a recent invention, all we have to do is to enter a "Phonogram", drop our money in a slot, tell a microphone all about it. The words will be recorded on a cardboard phonograph record.

Then we will place the record in an envelope, and mail it to our friend. Our friend will place the record on a phonograph, and receive the message verbally. Not a bad invention at all.

STUDENT COMMENT

Despite the fact that we have some of the most able speakers in the country and some of the most competent entertainers as guests in our auditorium, it is quite unusual when 85 percent of their words reach the average listener. As it happens, there are a lot of things that we miss by the faulty acoustics. We are constantly trying to impress our speakers that they should talk louder and I am under the impression that they are straining every vocal chord in their throats. Why must these speakers do this in such a comparatively small auditorium? There is only one answer and that is that in the construction or plan of the hall there were certain sound technicalities that were omitted.

Every year we have gifts presented to the school by certain graduating classes both in the high school and in the junior college. Why not cooperate between the different groups that do this and present to the institution, a gift that has been needed for some time? This necessity is a public address system.

With the installation of such a system, strained voices and ear drums would be things of the past. There is also much noise during the course of a speech by the listeners and it disturbs the speaker very much, but why is there? The answer is obvious. When we are expected to sit through an hour of talking and catching possibly 75 per cent of the words, it is a considerable difficult feat to sit still and quiet, even to people much older than the high school or college students.

I suggest a public address system be installed before the next year starts. With cooperation, the feat would be simple and the cost small if it were burdened upon several groups. The world is becoming electrified. Are we to stand back in the shadows and let the speakers and the listener literally kill themselves? —Bill Warren.

Student cooperation is deplorably lacking, if it is to be judged by the interest Dons and Donas are displaying in naming their year-book, which by their own desires, is at present without a name.

Virtually no names worthy of printing have been suggested to the somewhat harassed editor of the publication. To date, "The Don-Book" wins all honors. It is a name significant of the school, and one that is entirely distinctive. It is dignified and well sounding. The staff of the annual is unanimous in favor of this title, but each member feels that there may very possibly be a still better name, and hesitates to officially stamp "The Don Book" with his or her approval until he is assured that it will be forever satisfactory.

Several names of ordinary Spanish origin have been received. Among these are the titles "El Toro", "El Gaucho", "El Dorado", "El Toreador", and a few even worse. "El Don" is winning a few votes also. —Betty Maloney, editor of the year book.

Just a word about the caravan to Pasadena last Saturday. The caravan was surely a success, but there were certain difficulties which should be explained. The police escort were unable to accompany us beyond the county line.

The committee interviewed the city, county and state officers but none could accompany us. Captain Mehan, head of the county traffic department, telephoned to Sacramento to the state traffic department head for special permission to accompany the caravan into Pasadena, but he was refused the privilege.

We are indeed grateful to Captain Mehan for his cooperation with us. The thirty odd cars in the parade were well decorated, almost everyone showed a fine spirit of working together. Those responsible for the posters and signs deserve a great deal of credit.

However there are some regrettable incidents. Some students who do not merit the honor of being termed "A Don", took it upon themselves to speed ahead, break up the parade, and spoil the moral of the whole group. It is a shame that people must race ahead to show off their fine new cars and ruin the caravan before entering Pasadena.

Such people seem to be intent upon personal glory rather than the success of a group enterprise. Boulevard stops, railroad crossings, and other things naturally broke up the parade somewhat, but as a whole, the line of cars stayed together, with the exception of those few "I love me"

LAW STUDES

"Now in the last lecture—
Enter five late comers all afurry, who take seats in various sections of the room.

Mr. Fisk "I shall ask those coming in late to business law in the future to be so good as to seat themselves in the rear, so as not to disturb their fellow students. It is for our common interests. As I was saying, bla, bla."

Enter four more law students who park themselves in the center of the section.

"Inasmuch as I have already mentioned the matter, I wish to impress upon you the importance of coming to class on time. In the business world punctuality is all important. That reminds me of a conversation I overheard between two prominent men, etc., etc., (for ten minutes). Now to return to the law statis of this next case, Mr. Romoff, etc.

Two students walk out, accompanied by whistles, hoots.

"I say! If students are not able to attend the whole lecture, I wish they would sit in the rear so as not to disturb us in passing out. Moreover, it is most distressing to one's peace of mind to see all eyes of the class turn about at the least disturbance. You are college men and women. You are supposed to be able to concentrate. As one of my colleagues was saying the other day—"

HI WAY MYSTERY

There were ominous grumbings of thunder in the distance. The sky had that weird, greenish cast that so often precedes a storm. Night was approaching also, and it would be but a few minutes before the world would be plunged into premature darkness. The winding, concrete road was visible as far as the brow of the next hill, a quarter of a mile or so from where we had pulled up. At that time of day few people were travelling; we had met no one for the past half hour. No sooner had this thought passed through my mind that I saw the lights of a car coming over the hill. The car was slowing down, and I could hear the voices of the people inside quarrelling. Suddenly a shot rang through the dusk. The car had stopped now. Someone jumped out and hurried away under cover of the darkness and confusion. Several other people got out and were bending over something in the road, examining it with flashlights. There was a low murmuring, and then a voice cried out, as if in anger, "Darn it, that was a brand new tire. too."

City visitor: "Is it proper to say a hen is sitting or setting?"
Farmer: "I don't know and I don't care. What I want to know is when one cackles is she layin' or lyin'."

students.
But everyone had a good time, so let us look forward to our next trip to Los Angeles on November 6. Many thanks to everyone who helped make the caravan the success that it was. —Warren Schutz.

MIDNITE REVERIE

I awoke with a start. Some unknown being had roused me from my midnight slumbers. I lay stiff—I was bound hand foot. All around me was complete darkness, and all was still and cold.

The perspiration stood out upon my brow. I tried to think, but it was impossible, my brain clouded. I tried to remember what had taken place before I sank into oblivion, but I could not. My brain was nauseated—diseased.

Three times I sank back, and three times I was aroused again by that horrible ringing sensation in my ears. What had happened—what had taken place, where was I?

In that brief moment I must make a choice between success and failure—between duty and pleasure. Duty led to a greater reward—farther on. The path of pleasure led to a sorrowful awakening after it was all to late. With a stifled cry I arose and hurled the abominable thing with the power of a madman. My alarm clock had gone off an hour too soon.

BEAU CHESTS

Rolling pins, pin cushions, pins and holsters. Take your choice. The former articles represent the pledge emblems which for the past week have been displayed on the chests of favored students around the campus. However, not only this type of insignia was seen, but also several frosh men were seen kidishly pushing a rabbit on a wheel at intervals around the buildings.

The jaysee library was the setting where a certain aspiring young Bachelor lovingly fondled the beautiful piece of statuary so well known in the library. The aisles of the library were also the spot where Grace Skinner Sisterhood of Spinsters pledge, spent a period pacing the floor.

The never to be forgotten ordeal is commonly known as "hell week" and affords much amusement in addition to a splendid little side line from scholastic duties.

CAUGHT

Cannon Ball Baker has nothing on the Press club. Last Thursday night all the county records for speeding and other general misdemeanors were broken when the Press club treasure hunters went thru Anaheim faster than greased pig struck by lightning. The lone cop woke up long enough to tuck his night shirt in his trousers, mount his trusty bike and set off in pursuit. He finally caught up with them at the river bridge and charged them with everything from arson to mayhem, also for going "perty gosh darn fast" in a school zone at night. The trial is today at one.

SIX FOOTERS TO FETE ON "DERBY DAY"

Organization Will Enter Two Floats In Anaheim Parade Friday

Derbys, "Darbys", or what have you, seem to be in vogue with the Longfellows. This insignia of the Longfellows was adopted by the club at the last meeting. There was quite a controversy over what the most suitable insignia that could be worn and that would not compete with any of the other clubs in the college. The suggestion of wearing a Derby was made and the idea was unanimously accepted.

Club Enters Frolic

There were other plans made at the meeting that guarantee plenty of fun and excitement when the Longfellows enter their two floats in the annual Hallowe'en frolic and parade at Anaheim Friday evening. The "six-footers" entries will be stationed at Kloger street and will proceed west on E. Center to Los Angeles, then south to Broadway and west to Palm. From Palm the line of march will continue east on W. Center to Los Angeles and then north on Los Angeles. This will be the complete line of march of the floats will be entered from the many parts of the city.

Every effort is being made by the club to entertain the public and the motif of the Longfellows' floats will depict the trials and tribulations of the tall man. According to "Sky" Dunlap, president of the club, King Fun will reign over the club's two entries, and anyone who fails to see the "big boys' show" will be missing a rare treat. There will be about 12 members on each of the two floats and they will perform and characterize the woes of being tall.

To Enter Celebration

On November 11, the Longfellows will again enter the limelight with entries in the Armistice Day celebration at the same city, this entry motif will be taken from the state of Maine, the birthplace of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Enlarge Sacramento Paper With New Year

In keeping with the spirit of progress and improvement that has always been the policy of The Pony Express staff, the size of the paper this week has been increased to seven columns in width. The change has been made to accommodate the increasing amount of news available to The Pony Express this week.

As a result of the change, the paper will now come to the junior college folded and ready for distribution, whereas previously the folding was necessarily done by hand after copies had been received at the college. This extra convenience will add materially to the appearance of the publication when it is handed to the readers.

Spinsters Await Program At Beach Saturday Night

With all plans for the Spinsters' dance completed, the members and pledges are looking forward to Saturday night when the dance will be held at the Balboa Yacht club. Margaret Wilson who is in charge of decorations reports that interesting arrangements have been made to decorate the club house in the green and white of the Sisterhood as well as in the traditional orange and black of the season.

Music is to be provided by a Los Angeles orchestra that plays for all dances at the club. It is to be a program dance, with dancing between courses. Clever programs have been worked out by Grace Marcher and her committee. These are also to serve as favors.

Mid-semester

It was announced by the office today that the mid-semester examinations will come on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, November 12-14. It must also be stressed that these examinations are to count quite a bit on the final semester grades.

Press Clubs Directory Ready Soon

The campus directory is soon scheduled to make its initial appearance. Work which began several weeks ago by the committee in charge will soon terminate. Committee members include John "Sky" Dunlap, chairman, Robert DuPree, Paul Wright, Theodore Roth, Helen Mayes, and Betty James.

Data in the book will comprise the name, address, and telephone number of every student attending junior college.

In addition a brief summary of each junior college club and activity to give information concerning members, officers, and organization news.

At a recent assembly slips of paper were issued to each student and his signature pledged him to purchase a copy at the cost of fifteen cents. However, students not signing the paper at that designated time and who later wish to buy an issue will be charged 25 cents. Total expenses to publish such a directory are estimated to amount to approximately $5 dollars; the proceeds of which go to the Press club.

Progress Reviewed By J. C. President

Santa Ana junior college is growing rapidly, according to an interview with Abbott Mason, Associated Student president, who gave a brief review of the activities of the year this far.

In the first place the enrollment has greatly increased, there now being 642 students enrolled as compared with 479 at this time last year. In order to accomodate the increase in social activities, two more boy's clubs have been formed, and probably others will be organized. La Compania de los Gauchos is the new men's service club which was formed on somewhat the same plan as the Bachelors and Junior Lions, while Hermanos Siempre was organized on an entirely new plan, being a purely ethical club, and having for its adviser, Mr. E. M. Nealley, instructor of philosophy and psychology. Mr. H. A. Scott acts as adviser to the Gauchos.

Twelve junior college students were honored Thursday in assembly when they were presented with pins signifying that they are temporary members of the California junior college honor society. (Fullerton "Weekly Torch")

With the inception of the 6-4-4 educational plan in Compton, Cal., this September, Compton District high school and junior college has approximately 3,000 students enrolled in the combined four-year course, which includes the last two years of high school and the first two years of junior college. German Students Form New Club For Language Practice

To organize themselves into a club, German students met recently in Miss Watson's room. Election of officers was the first business carried on by the new club. The election resulted in the following officers being chosen for this semester. President, Howard Rose; vice-president, Simeon Toelle; secretary, Toby Greenow; treasurer, Ray Glesner, and reporter Lillian Neuman.

Plans were made for several social affairs to be held in the near future. Some members of the club plan to attend the German operas that are soon to appear in Los Angeles. At various times German talkies are also shown in the city. An excursion is planned to one of these.

Thirty Geology Students Take Mojave Field Trip

29 students of the Santa Ana junior college geology and mineralogy classes, lead by H. A. Scott, instructor, spent all last Saturday exploring, and studying the many lava flows, salt beds, and the many other geological formations of the Mojave desert.

The students left school Friday afternoon in six cars, and spent the night at Ludlow, 60 miles the other side of Barstow. The men slept out on the sand, while the girls, Walter Wilson and Bill Crawford stayed at the hotel.

Early Saturday morning the party continued on to Bristol Dry Lake, where the mining of salt and calcium chloride is done. Beds of from four to six feet of salt are found here. This was 75 miles this side of Needles.

The party then returned to Amboy, where they parked their cars and hiked four miles to the Amboy volcano cone. Here, almost 4,000 feet above sea level, lunch was served. After returning to the cars, the

Social Meeting Is Slated By "Shells"

La Vonne Olsen, president of the Shea Shell Shocial club, plans to call a social meeting of that organization in the near future. Both old and new members will be invited.

Officers were elected during the last fifteen minutes of the chemistry class on October 17. Those chosen were Miss Olsen, president; Roseland Schilling, secretary and treasurer; and Florence Stanley, sergeant at arms.

Plans are being made for a steak bake at Irvine Park, the final details have not been arranged as yet. It has been decided, however, that it will be a date affair.

Educational Survey Of County Outlined

Louis E. Plummer made public Saturday a letter sent to the board of trustees of Fullerton junior college by Professor F. W. Hart of U. C. concerning the educational survey of the county to ascertain what the survey board thinks best, one junior college for northern Orange county or two.

During the August meeting of the Santa Ana and Fullerton boards this survey was requested. The request was presented to the county board of supervisors, and since then it has been inactive.

Survey Opposed
J. A. Prizer of the Fullerton board of trustees opposed this survey on the basis that it was a useless expense since the district would not submit to removal of its junior college should the board so recommend. The advocates of one junior college for the county had agitated the sur-

INTERCEPTED PASS SCORES DON VICTORY

Santa Cruz, Don Tackle, In Hero Role As Cookmen
Cinch Lead Honor

Playing real football against a highly-touted and undefeated team, the Santa Ana Dons humbled the Pasadena junior college Bulldogs 7 to 0, on the Pasadena field Saturday.

Mike Santa Cruz, stellar Don tackle, intercepted a pass late in the second quarter and ran 25 yards to make the lone score of the game. Captain Al Kluthe, center, kicked for the extra point.

The Bulldogs deserved to score in the first half. It was just by nip-and-tuck playing that the Padres held back the threatening Bulldog eleven.

The first two stanzas saw the ball in Santa Ana territory most of the time, but the tide turned at the half, the fighting Dons thrusting back the Bulldogs with line bucks that netted gains consistently.

Late in the final quarter, after Seacord, Don quarterback, snagged a Bulldog pass and rambled 20 yards, the Millionaires came within a hair of scoring. In order to gain back yardage lost by a 15-yard penalty, Seacord uncorked a long pass intended for Hal Dunham, but this arch of leather ended in the arms of Smythe, substitute end for Pasadena, who raced wildly toward the Santa Ana goal with plenty of interference. Dunham and Ervin Watkins started the chase. Dunham was cut down and only Watkins was left to carry on. Finally, after a 60-yard chase, Watkins nailed him on the 18-yard line, much to the relief of the Santa Ana fans. The stone wall defense of the Dons held the Bulldogs on the 5-yard line and a pass over goal gave the oval to Santa Ana.

Santa Ana's backs—Hapes, Seacord, Garlock and Van Meter—stopped the Bulldog offense admirably. The Dons' forward wall was composed of Kluthe at center, Dunham and Groenow at end, Olsen and Martin at guards, and Santa Cruz and Clayton at the tackle positions. This combination worked well. Melvin

Donna Girls Score Cage Victory Over Seniors Of Tustin

Santa Ana junior college's freshmen girls' basketball team had a 40 to 32 victory on their record books today, scored over the seniors of Tustin high school last week.

The Tustin juniors rang up a 28 to 14 win over the Santa Ana sophomores, while a mixed team composed of local junior college cage artists eked out a 36 to 34 win over a group of Tustin basketweavers.

Streaks of brilliance were displayed by both institutions, the Santa Ana girls admitting afterwards that the Tustin players were as fast as lightning.

Beatty started and finished the fray. Clayton and Santa Cruz fought consistently.

Bouge and Osborne carried the ball most of the time for the Bulldogs and played a fast, hard game of football that made the Dons keep their heads up. Pasadena certainly got the breaks in the first half and came several times within scoring distance. The condition of the Pasadena field possibly caused the Dons to fall down in the first half. It was a poor field, being of sawdust and shavings. The Santa Ana team has played on a turf field in every tilt to date. The difference in fields slowed the playing up and caused the Padres to fall and slip many times. Even with this insecure footing, the Dons played a fine brand of football and gave the Bulldogs something to remember for some time to come.

Pasadena remained undefeated until the clash with the Dons Saturday. Compton and Santa Ana are now the chief contenders for the conference title. Every man on the Santa Ana squad is pretty well hardened to the game and has the plays well learned. Coach Bill Cook has high hopes of repeating the accomplishment of last year, but he real-

FOOTBALL CHAMPS

How many football champions were there in the Southern California junior college conference last season? The Los Angeles "Junior Collegian" has stated twice that Fullerton won the pennant in 1929. The "Bear Growls" of Phoenix, Arizona comes out in its columns that Pasadena won the title. Let's get something straight, sport editors! The Dons of Santa Ana junior college won the conference after a thrilling last-minute rally over the Fullerton Yellowjackets, 19 to 13. We thank you!

HOMEWARD BOUND

Mike Santa Cruz, brilliant Don tackle, will be among home-folks Saturday when the Santa Ana gridmen invade Phoenix, Arizona for an intersectional game. Santa Cruz's folks reside in Phoenix, the Don football player having a small brother on the Phoenix high school teams. Santa Cruz, who hails from Orange, is staying with relatives during his career at Santa Ana junior college.

LLOYD NUZUM

Just another case of a home boy making good—Lloyd Nuzum, Santa Ana track and football star, enrolled at Compton junior college this year and has been playing first-string end ever since. Nuzum saw considerable action in the Santa Ana-Compton game here.

TOUCH FOOTBALL

Not all the football around Santa Ana junior college is of the "tackle" type. Physical education classes have gone in for the "touch" variety in a big way. G. A. "Tex" Oliver, head of the men's department, has posted a list of rules in Andrews' gym for the benefit of the grid enthusiasts.

GRID SCHEDULE

One more home game remains for Coach Bill Cook's Santa Ana Dons, and that will come with Glendale one week following the Phoenix game. Santa Ana then will meet Los Angeles at Los Angeles November 15 and will journey to Fullerton Thanksgiving Day.

Jaysee Conference Has Compton, Santa Ana Vieing On Top

The league standings, compiled by Bill Warren, show just where the Santa Ana Dons, defending champion, lead the conference by reason of their 7 to 0 victory over the Pasadena Bulldogs Saturday.

Every team in the race has been beaten except Santa Ana and Compton, these two teams playing a 6 to 6 tie a week ago on the local field. This coming Saturday will find Fullerton's "mystery team" at Compton battling the Tartars, while Pasadena goes to Glendale. Santa Ana draws a bye and plays an intersectional game at Phoenix.

GRID NOTES

By Harley Vahl

The Fullerton Yellowjackets certainly stung the Los Angeles Cubs by coming out on the long end of a 12-14 score. This was a very surprising upset as the Cubs were doped to win the title.

The spotlight this week centers on the Compton - Fullerton fray. If the Yellowjackets can repeat their performance of last week and defeat the Tartars they have a good chance of copping the title. Compton is handicapped by the injury of "Fancy" Yancy, the star back.

At present four teams remain in the race for the title: Santa Ana, Fullerton, Pasadena, and Compton.

The so-called strong Vikings were stopped by the Glendale Dynamiters. The score was very close, as the Dynamiters beat only by the extra point made by converting. The final score was 7-6.

Coach "Tex" Oliver's Santa Ana High School Saints will journey to San Diego Saturday to mix with Hilltoppers. The Saints and Hilltoppers are both tied at the head of the list, and one or the other will emerge a favorite to cop the title of the Coast conference.

Ana fans with a stellar brand of football since the Southern California jaysee race began and are, at the time of this writing, tied with Compton in the parade for the league bunting. Pasadena has stepped out of the picture, for the moment at least, by virtue of Santa Ana's 7 to 0 win over the Bulldogs Saturday.

The Cookmen have shone brilliantly in all three league games, the Dons having trounced the Long Beach Vikings 19 to 0, having tied the Compton Tartars 6 to 6, and having "taken" the above-mentioned Pasadena contest.

Dons Favored

Santa Ana invades the Phoenix field Saturday afternoon a slight favorite over the Arizonans. Last season the Phoenix team visited the Padre "hang-out" and went home with the short end of a 56 to 0 score. But things are being viewed in a different light this year, since Pasadena, one of the strongest teams in the Southern California circuit, gave everything it had to beat the neighboring state, 13 to 3.

Hal Dunham and Toby Groenow, first string ends, will take care of the wing positions Saturday. Mike Santa Cruz and Harry Clayton will be at tackle, Phillip Martin and Gene Olsen at guard, Captain Al Kluthe at center and Emmett Seacord, Melvin Beatty, Franklin Van Meter and Clarence Hapes in the backfield. "Galloping" Wayne Garlock, regular starting quarterback, has not been inserted in the Don's starting lineup for the past two games but has seen more than his share of action after the games get under way.

Orville Schuchardt, backfield sensation of last season, and Miles Privett, flashy ball-carrier from Garden Grove, will be ready to help out Garlock and Seacord. Leonard Natland and Dante Siracusa are good quarterbacks. Natland played on the Don team last year, while Siracusa was a star at Huntington Beach high school. Ervin Watkins is a halfback who has won his spurs this season and undoubtedly will be given a chance at the Arizonans.

Beat Indians

Coach George Hoy's Phoenix aggregation scored a 54 to 6 victory over the Sacaton Indians of Arizona recently and has been working overtime in preparation for the Santa Ana tilt. The Black Bears will long remember their 1929 reversals.

Phoenix has a tough backfield combination in Blackburn, Murdock, Joy and Maddock. These four ball-carriers are drilled thoroughly in open-field runs. Blackburn, fullback, has the running ability of a good quarterback, the Phoenix flash lugging the ball for yards aplenty on every attempt.

Joy and Murdock are used by Coach Hoy on long drives, while Blackburn is used in the ball-plunging capacity. During the Pasadena contest the Phoenix gridmen committed several costly fumbles but held their own with the Millionaire city eleven. Murdock is the team's punter.

The following Santa Ana players probably will make the trip to Arizona: Captain Al Kluthe, center; Hal Dunham, end; Mike Santa Cruz, tackle; Gene Olsen, guard; Phillip Martin, guard, Harry Clayton, tackle; Toby Groenow, end; Miles Privett, quarterback; Bert Winslow, end; Gilbert Kluthe, tackle; Melvin Maxwell, guard; Bill McCormick, tackle; Ervin Watkins, halfback; Paul Bruce, center; Kioshi Shigawaki, fullback; Vernon Schauppner, halfback; Charles Tuma, halfback; Dante Siracusa, quarterback; Bert Wilkins, fullback; Simeon Toelle, guard; Joe Gifford, tackle; Curt McCoy, guard and center; Bill Harkleroad, end; Leonard Natland, quarterback; Kermit McCoy, guard; Wayne Bartholomew, guard; Charles Andres, end; Wayne Garlock, quarterback; Orville Schuchardt, quarterback; Harry Lake, tackle; Joe Koons, tackle; Elmore Lord, halfback; George Berry, guard; Solon Beall, end; Gene Edwards, end; Max Appleby, end; Larry Walbridge, end; and Jack Cook, end.
